2002	Amanda Stephens	Sienna College	amanda.stephens@students.siena.edu	Hey Ya'll. I totally miss DCS. It was the best time of my life. Don't worry because I am still Dolgeville's biggest crasian. I still bleed blue and white. Remember tradition never graduates. Write me if you are in the Albany area. Love you like a brother. XOXO. Peace out cub scout!
2002	Kayla (Barnes) Corso	Little Falls NY	Kayla.Corso@ Excellus.com	Hey everyone! Life is good. I am married, have a 4 month old son, and work from home for Excellus BCBS. What more can a girl ask for!
2003	Laura Darling	134 Miller Rd. / SPOB 4371 Loudonville	wawu14@yahoo.com	I didn't even know this existed until reminicence got the best of me. Thanks for the lessons both in class, and out. On the feilds and off. Both on stage and behind the scenes. And I promise not to come back too often and annoy everyone. Always smile, :)
2004	Eric Barnes		eric_college2004@yahoo.com	Great to be able to look back at the school now that the class of '04 is gone. Its kinda sad to see and not be there.... Dolgeville was a great school and I am actually proud of the traditions it holds....And as always I will miss roaming the halls...and being a super senior
2007	Llora Regina Clark	Monrovia, CALIFORNIA 91016	lloraclark@roadrunner.com	ha! i guess im the only one from 07 to post on here. Things are going great for me! Working as an AFLAC insurance agent, and still getting settled in sunny california. Enjoying life here, but i will travel to Dolgeville every year to visit, since there is always a piece of 'home' in my heart.
